Dear Simon,

How is your summer going? I hope you enjoy every moment of it!

I just returned from an incredible trip to Paris this summer, and I can't wait to share my experiences with you. The moment I stepped off the train, I was greeted by the sweet aroma of fresh croissants and the sight of the Eiffel Tower sparkling under the summer sun. The city was bustling with energy, and I felt like I had entered a postcard. I spent my first day wandering the charming streets of Montmartre, where artists showcased their work and locals gathered in cosy cafés drinking coffee. Every corner seemed to tell a story, and I wished you had been there to experience it with me.

One of the highlights of my trip was visiting the Louvre Museum. I was in delight as I stood before the Mona Lisa; her enigmatic smile seemed to follow me everywhere I went. The museum itself felt like a work of art, with its glass pyramid structure contrasting beautifully with the historic buildings surrounding it. I also explored the incredible gardens of Versailles, where I pretended to be a prince wandering the lawns and admiring the ornate fountains. Each moment felt magical, and I couldn't help but take countless photos to remember every detail.

Of course, no trip would be complete without trying the local food! I tasted delicious pastries, savory pancakes and even tried escargot, which is translated as "snail" from French, at a charming little restaurant. I thought about how much you would have laughed watching me trying to eat them without grimacing! It was a summer I'll never forget, and I truly wish I could have shared it with you in person. I hope to hear about your adventures — whether it's about school, your friends or any plans you have for the summer.

Take care and write back when you can!

Best wishes,

Nikita
